To Appear Here

Ginny Jackson One of Top Performers on Radio Show

Miss Ginny Jackson is one of the featured performers on the Rex Allen Show which will appear here Feb. 4 at the formal opening and dedication of the new $650,000 Wilbarger County Auditorium.

Miss Jackson will appear on the CBS Radio show, beamed to a nationwide audience direct from the spacious stage of the new auditorium, along with star Rex Allen and the famous western musical group, The Sons of the Pioneers.

The formal opening and dedication is expected to draw a capacity crowd of over 2,000 persons into the new building.

She was a young miss named Mary Virginia Jackson who wanted to be a veterinarian. Born April 21, 1930, in Dayton, Washington, she went to a country school thirteen miles from her Dad's sheep ranch, and it seemed the most natural thing in the world that she should become a "horse doctor."

At least, it seemed a natural thing to her, but there were those who disagreed. Among the first of these was Henry King, a man with a band who thought her much too talented—and too, very, very beautiful—to spend her time studying chemistry and the medical care of animals.

Not that Mary Virginia—now known as Ginny Jackson of CBS' "Rex Allen Show"—needed anyone to inspire her with a love for music. By the time she was eight years old she was singing in amateur contests and benefits.

Stalin Reported To Have Fired Top Naval Officers

Munich, Germany, Jan. 17. (AP)—The Muenchner Merkur claimed today failures in the battleship construction program prompted Prime Minister Stalin to fire top officers.

The West German newspaper, which has sources among Soviet military deserters, said Stalin personally inspected fleet installations in recent months.

Admiral Ivan S. Yumashev was relieved last year as Navy Minister because completion of two new 35,000-ton battleships was long overdue, the Merkur asserted.

The Merkur said other officers dismissed included Vice Admiral N. I. Vinogradov and Admiral F. S. Oktubirsky, commanders of the Baltic and Black Sea fleets, and several leading naval engineers.

SECOND FIRE DEATH

Hillsboro, Jan. 17. (AP)—Hill County's second fire death in less than 24 hours occurred early today when flames swept a Negro home here. Julia Bell, 73-year-old bedfast invalid, was burned to death. Her grand-niece, Cecil Marie Patterson, 5, believed the only other person in the building at the time, escaped injury. Fire that destroyed her home yesterday killed Mrs. Hallie Myrick Dale, 82, of Irene, 20 miles east of Hillsboro.

M'Mahon Expects Atomic Program To Be Expanded

Statement Is Made by Senator After He Calls on President.

Washington, Jan. 17. (AP)—Senator McMahon (D-Conn.) said today after a call on President Truman that he is sure the United States atomic energy program will be expanded.

Talking with reporters at the White House, McMahon said:

"We talked about the expansion program that has been under consideration by the Atomic Energy Commission.

"The decision has been made by the President. He told me about it—about the expansion program. Further than that I can't state."

He said Mr. Truman will have an announcement to make, but has not determined how and when it will be made.

The Senator, chairman of the joint Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, said the President's decision results from a recommendation he, McMahon, made to the joint committee last September and which the committee approved in October.

He said the President's decision would call for appropriations from Congress to finance the program.

Churchill Pledges Congress That Britain Will Do Her Part in Defense of Europe

Washington, Jan. 17. (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill pledged to Congress today that Britain will do her part in defending Europe, and will join in a "resolute and effective" response should new Communist aggression break out in the Far East.

In a momentous address to a joint Senate-House session, the British leader declared:

"We take our stand at your side."

Churchill, speaking slowly from notes, told Congress the British are "very glad" that "you do not allow the Chinese anti-Communists on Formosa to be invaded."

And he predicted that in time China would throw off Communism.

By implication at least, those remarks moved British policy in the Far East closer to that of the United States.

Britain has recognized Communist China while this country still recognizes the Nationalist government of Chiang Kai-Shek.

In other highlights, Churchill:

1. Said he believes that "by accumulating deterrents of all kinds against aggression," the free nations and the world will be able to avoid another world war.

2. Admonished that the United States should not agree to outlawing atomic bombs under present world conditions. "Be careful, above all things, not to let go of the atomic weapon until you are sure and more than sure that the means of preserving peace are in your hands," he said.

Just before his caution about the a-bomb, Churchill had said the most "effective deterrent against a third world war" was the "valiant resolution" of a well-armed international force, "rather than the awful secret which has been wrested from nature."

"Supreme determination" against another war would be the most effective guaranty of victory, he said.

Churchill, in black suit and a dotted bow tie, delivered his address from what appeared to be notes. No advance text was given to news reporters.

Aimed perhaps as much to the American people as to the legislators, the address was carried by all major U. S. television and radio networks.

His words also were relayed to Britain and to commonwealth countries for rebroadcasts.

The Voice of America—official U. S. overseas radio—said it would broadcast translations in 46 languages to all parts of the world.

For Churchill, the address was a climactic point to his American journey, undertaken to seek closer understanding and ties with the United States, now that his country has returned him to the leadership he exercised during the war.

The British Prime Minister has sought that closer tie in a series of conferences with President Truman. They are to have one more meeting tomorrow before Churchill leaves Washington on Saturday.

Churchill began his address by saying that all his conferences here were aimed so that "we can do our best for the common cause."

Illness Hits

Attendance at School Drops

An illness—diagnosed principally as flu—has caused a decrease in attendance at all Vernon schools, according to a survey made Thursday.

Vernon Junior High School showed the largest number of absences. Principal John Spradlin reported that about 30 per cent of a total enrollment of approximately 600 has been out with illness.

"We have had as high as 170 out in one day," Mr. Spradlin said. "Our absences Thursday numbered 124—a slight decrease from average absence this week."

D. O. Fulton, principal of the high school, said that only 35 were absent there today. He stated that the average in the high school had been from 60 to 70 per day.

"It appears that it is on the decrease here," Mr. Fulton said. "It may be, however, that some students are coming to school despite illness because of final examinations due next week."

L. E. Ricketts, principal of Central grade school, said that 42 were absent from class Thursday. This is about 10 per cent of the total enrollment—slightly above average absence, he stated.

"I don't believe that the heavy influx of the illness has struck grade schools yet," Mr. Ricketts said. "I look for a larger amount of absences next week."

Other grade schools carried out this same percentage—figuring about 10 per cent of total enrollment absent from class due to illness.

The same situation seems to be striking other schools over the state also. Attendance was down from 10 to 50 per cent in schools of other cities.

Soviet Diplomat Calls Van Fleet Unfit to Serve

UN Committee Still Refuses to Accept Russian Peace Plan.

Paris, Jan. 17. (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky told the United Nations today there is "no hope" for successful conclusion of Korean armistice talks at Panmunjom.

In spite of this, the assembly political committee rejected the Soviet Union's new omnibus peace plan, which included calls for an immediate cease-fire in Korea, retreat from the 38th parallel by both sides and withdrawal of all foreign troops. A Russian proposal to move the armistice talks from Korea to higher levels in Paris previously had been rejected.

Vishinsky said "unreasonable demands presented by the American command can give no hope for successful conclusion" of the armistice talks now going on at Panmunjom.

Raps Van Fleet

In a slashing speech before the United Nations political committee, Vishinsky called U. S. Gen. James A. Van Fleet a "cannibal" unfitted to conduct the talks.

He also accused U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson of not wanting any form of atomic control and doing his best to undermine Russian attempts to get it.

Nevertheless, the committee sent Vishinsky's atom program to the newly created Disarmament Commission for intensive study. The vote on a British-French-American resolution suggesting this course was 53 to 5, with two abstentions.

"Only hypocrites," he said, could want to leave truce talks in the hands of Van Fleet and other military leaders.

Quotes AP

The Soviet foreign minister quoted the Associated Press as reporting that Gen. Van Fleet was "perfectly satisfied" with war destruction in North Korea and the critical state of the civilian population.

"Those are the statements of a blood-thirsty man—of a cannibal," Vishinsky declared.

"This is what those who insist on military negotiations are covering up."

Vishinsky's quotation was a distortion of a remark Gen. Van Fleet made in an interview Jan. 13. Van Fleet was commenting on the dragged out armistice talks and said the Communists were finding the war a "terrible drain" and needed and wanted the armistice. Then he added:

"I am satisfied the northern part of Korea is so badly destroyed that the Reds lack food, clothing and shelter and the population of North Korea is in very critical condition."

His usage of the word "satisfied" was in the sense of understanding the situation, not fulfillment of a desire.

New Rail Service Due To Start in July

Mexico City, Jan. 17. (AP)—The Government Railroad said today the new 20-hour service to the border at Laredo, Texas, is expected to start in July.

The new service, cutting four hours off the present running time for the 700-mile trip, will use three light-weight trains now under construction in Switzerland. The nine-car trains, ordered last year from the Schindler Company, will go through to San Antonio, Texas.

This will be the first time in many years Mexican-owned cars have gone out of the country on this important tourist route. Tourists now come to Mexico City in Missouri Pacific cars.

Ike's Name Entered in Primary Poll

Concord, N. H., Jan. 17. (AP)—Gen. Eisenhower's name was entered in New Hampshire's preference primary today as a Republican candidate for President.

A large group of "I like Ike" supporters headed by Gov. Sherman Adams presented petitions to Secretary of State Enoch D. Fuller entering the general's name on the ballot of the primary, March 11—first in the nation.

Gov. Adams is chairman of the New Hampshire Eisenhower-for-President committee.

His consent, however, not yet given, still will be necessary before his name appears on the March 11 ballot—the first in the nation.

Secretary of State Enoch D. Fuller cabled Gen. Eisenhower in Paris informing him he is a candidate. The general has 10 days to withdraw his name.

If he doesn't reply to the cable within the time specified by New Hampshire law, state officials will interpret his silence as consent and he will be officially a candidate for President.

Eisenhower forces in New Hampshire have stated publicly they are confident the general will permit his name to remain on the ballot.

In a statement from his Paris headquarters about 10 days ago, Gen. Eisenhower said he would respond to a "clearcut call to political duty," but would not personally campaign for the GOP nomination.

Warren Outlines His Views on Politics

San Francisco, Jan. 17. (AP)—Gov. Earl Warren of California told Republicans bluntly today they cannot "turn the clock back" and expect to win this year's presidential election.

Warren, an announced candidate for the GOP presidential nomination, opened his party's National Committee meeting with a luncheon speech. He outlined "liberal" platform planks he said his party must adopt if it expects to get a majority in the November election.

"I am convinced the American people are not Socialists and will not tolerate Socialistic government, but they definitely are committed to social progress," Warren declared in a prepared address.

"Any party which turns its back on social progress will be repudiated by the people."

Tax Burden Figured for Each Family

Washington, Jan. 17. (AP)—The head of every American family will have an extra debt or tax burden of $226 average if President Truman's new budget calls for the expected $3 billion dollars.

This was estimated today by the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, which urged its members to help cut Federal spending by easing up their pressure on Congress for money for state and local projects.

The chamber said its figures are based on a $10 billion boost in Federal spending. It is reported the President's budget message Monday will call for from $83 to $85 billion, compared with an estimated $70 to $73 billion this fiscal year ending June 30.

A $10 billion boost, the chamber estimates, would bring additional average tax or debt burdens ranging from $120 per family in Mississippi to $302 in Delaware. The average would be $226. "Strangely enough," the chamber said, "the District of Columbia, home of bureaucrats, will have the highest liability, namely $421 for the family."

It said it arrived at the estimates by allocating the new tax burden among states in proportion to incomes received by individuals in each state. This state figure was then divided by the number of families in the state.

New Storm Front Heads For California Sector

San Francisco, Jan. 17. (AP)—The black mass of a new storm front rolled toward Northern California today, threatening more rain and snow for areas already flooded and snowbound.

A five-day storm already has (1) isolated towns, (2) stranded the Southern Pacific streamliner City of San Francisco, whose 226 passengers and crew were rescued late yesterday, (3) disrupted transport and communications and (4) sent hundreds of lowland residents from flooded homes.

Portola, Calif., railroad and lumber town 4,000 feet high in the Sierra, was isolated and in critical condition until a Western Pacific emergency train bored in with medical supplies yesterday.

A woman died in a gas explosion there and a nine-foot snowfall collapsed buildings and stranded seven buses carrying 248 persons.

At least 13 deaths have been attributed to the storm and millions of dollars of property has been destroyed.

TWO MEN FINED

That Cold Wave Missing Texas

(By The Associated Press)

Cooler weather that had been eyeing Texas has snubbed the Lone Star State and no change in the mid-January heat wave is in sight.

The Weather Bureau said that the cool front which had been expected to enter the Texas Panhandle by Friday had stayed up north and was moving eastward.

No major temperature changes and no rain were in sight.

Light rains fell yesterday at scattered points. Beaumont recorded .13 of an inch; Galveston, .06; Austin, .03, and Palestine, .02. Southerly breezes played over Texas today.

Dallas' low of 65 degrees last night made it the warmest night for Jan. 16 on record.

Weather

Temperature readings for the past 24-hour period ending at noon Thursday:

Jaycees Will Open Poll Tax Sub-Stations This Week

The Junior Chamber of Commerce will open poll tax sub-stations in the three banks Saturday and will also operate a tax-payment station on the corner of Peace and Main Streets after banking hours in an effort to bolster faltering tax payments.

W. B. Smith, president of the Jaycees, said that the sub-stations would be open in the Waggoner Bank, the Herring Bank and the First State Bank lobbies on Saturday, Jan. 19 and Saturday Jan. 26 during banking hours and at the same places during banking hours on the following days: Jan. 28-29-30-31.

J. R. Huie, tax assessor-collector, said Thursday that poll tax payments are now slightly under the 2,600 mark. The county's voting strength has been estimated at 6,500.

Poll tax payments are running about 2,500 behind payments in 1948—the last presidential election year. They are lagging about 2,000 behind the last state election year of 1950.

Jaycee President Smith urged all citizens to pay their poll tax or to secure poll tax exemptions if eligible.

"In these troubled times, it is especially important that the people exercise the right to vote," Mr. Smith said. "If we are to keep a government of the people, then we, as citizens, should do our duty and vote. I sincerely urge everyone of voting age to pay their poll tax now."

Man Is Held Here on Charges of Swindling

A man identified by officers as I. W. Allen is being held here today on charges of swindling by worthless check. Allen was apprehended in Amarillo and returned to Vernon where charges were filed.

An ex-convict, Allen was sentenced to two years in prison from Hereford County on similar charges in 1949. Officers here said a man by the name of Allen passed several checks in this area that same year, and again at a later date.

McCarty Food Store Schedules Grand Opening Here

New Building Will Open On Saturday

Grand opening for the completely new McCarty's Food Market located on Wilbarger Street at the intersection of the Crowell and Amarillo highways has been scheduled for 7 a. m. to 10 p. m. Saturday, H. A. McCarty, owner, has announced.

The new building, with more than 3,500 feet of shopping floor space, marks a new milestone of progress for Mr. McCarty and the grocery business in Vernon. In celebration of the occasion 10 baskets of groceries will be given away at the market Friday and Saturday. Also planned are free demonstrations, free coffee, baker boy cakes, hot dogs and fruit juices, to be given away during the opening Saturday.

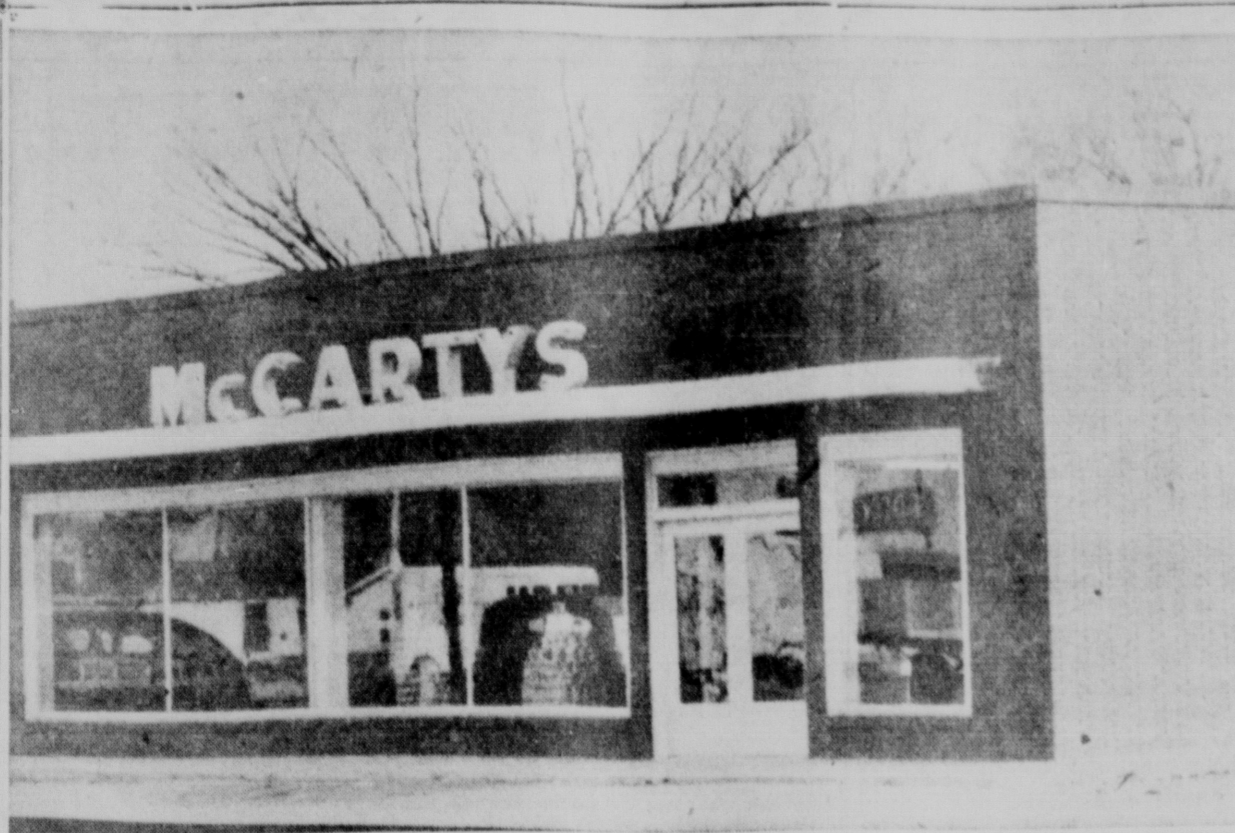

Mr. McCarthy believes his new store is one of the most modern in the area in convenience and design. The building, built next door and just to the west of the old McCarty market, has spacious aisles for convenient shopping, completely new fixtures and stock with shelves built within easy reach of every customer.

Besides offering the best in customer shopping facilities, the store also has parking space for some 50 cars in front, at the side and behind the building.

Unusual services are also offered. McCarty's is the 11th store in Texas to become a member of the Telefood association. This means that gift baskets of food can be telegraphed anywhere, just as flowers can be wired. The store is also a member of the National and Texas Retail Grocers Association.

Persons shopping for groceries at the store will always find McCarty's efficient personnel ready to help in every way. J. W. Crisp, market manager, heads sales for meats and similar foods. Roy McConihe serves as a checker and stocker, Norman Davis in the stocking and delivery departments, with Mr. McCarty supervising in the general merchandising area.

Mr. McCarty, who has been in the grocery business for 16 years, came to Vernon from Wellington. He has spent almost 12 years in the grocery business here since that time.

NEW STORE—This is a front view of McCarty's new grocery store which will stage a grand opening on Friday and Saturday. The store is owned by H. A. McCarty and is located at 4009 Wilbarger.

Two Films Are Available Here

Two Department of Defense films, "Survival Under Atomic Attack" and "Self Preservation in an Atomic Attack," have been held over here in Vernon for possible use by civic clubs or other interested organizations during the remainder of the week. Mrs. Harry Colley, local home nursing chairman, has announced.

Organizations may obtain the films, seen here Wednesday by local Red Cross officials and two Red Cross staff members from St. Louis, by applying at the local offices of the relief organization here.

Among those who have already viewed the films are Miss Beulah Miles of St. Louis, supervisor of home nursing who has conducted conferences and training courses here during the past week, and Giles M. Boone, also of St. Louis, General Red Cross Field Representative.

Local officials seeing the films were Hickman Brown, chapter chairman; Miss Jerry Garrett, recording secretary; Rev. J. A. Birnbaum, chairman of disaster relief; L. L. Howell, safety chairman; Miss Esther Swartwood, home service chairman; Woodrow Duckworth, chairman of the blood donor program; Mrs. Bertha Ross, executive secretary, and Mrs. Colley.

Also present were Mayor Ray Eggleston, a number of local peace officers and members of the home nursing instructors class.

CHARGES FILED

Charges have been filed on two counts of forgery against a Vernon man who passed two worthless $137.50 checks to a local farmer in payment of hay, District Attorney Leon Douglas said Thursday. Name of the man, not now in custody, has been withheld pending apprehension.

Representatives of the Vernon Chamber of Commerce will attend the annual banquet of the Burk Burnett Chamber of Commerce to night, J. C. Randel, president, reported Ray Hill, manager of the Burk Burnett chamber, stated that this would be the 31st annual meeting of that organization.

Spaht, Kennon Leading Race

New Orleans, Jan. 17. (AP)—The race for leading gubernatorial candidates in the first primary may be a close affair between Carlos Spaht and Robert Kennon, but there's no such closeness in the race for Lieutenant Governor.

John McKeithen, State Representative of Columbia, running on the Spaht ticket, holds a big lead in an eight-man race for Lieutenant Governor.

Returns from 1,532 of the state's 2,112 precincts, in yesterday's Democratic primary showed:

McKeithen 127,788.

State Sen. C. E. (Cap) Barham, Ruston, candidate on the ticket of U. S. Rep. Hale Boggs, 102,880.

Elmer D. Conner, on the ticket of Judge Robert Kennon 98,486.

Lionel Ott, Finance Commissioner of New Orleans and candidate on the James McLeMore ticket, 73,308.

Mayor Leon Gary of Houma, on the ticket of Lt. Gov. William Dodd, 57,650.

Mayor Hoffman Fuller, Bossier City, on the Dudley LeBlanc ticket, 32,219.

Lions To Open District Play Here Friday Night

1-AAA Boasts 38-47 Record This Season

Two teams with the best non-district cage records get together here Friday night to open district play in 1-AAA for 1952.

The Vernon Lions, with a 7-4 mark, will play host to the Sweetwater Mustangs who boast a 12-8 record. Vernon's losses have been at the hands of Wichita Falls, Quannah, Childress and Olney.

The Lions hold wins over Electra (twice), Childress, Quannah, Crowell, Odell and Lockett.

Plainview, figured to finish high up in district play, has won only six times in 14 starts. Big Spring has fashioned six victories in 16 outings. Lamesa has a 4-9 mark and Midland boasts a none-too-good 3-8 record.

It has been mediocre non-district play for District 1-AAA with a six-team mark of 38 wins and 47 losses. Of the 38 wins, Vernon and Sweetwater hold 19 or exactly one-half.

Other opening games in District 1-AAA will send Big Spring to Midland and Plainview to Lamesa.

Ramon Towry, leading scorer for the Lions, Gordie Harvey, Lester Dye, James Tull and Jerry Thomas will get the starting nod from Coach Bob Percival.

Carl Anderson and Joe Smith pace the Mustang cagers of Coach Ken Newton.

SCHOOL DAYS—Bob Nieman interviews a fellow-student, Lois Youngen, at Kent State University of Ohio, where the Browns' recruit outfielder is in his second year. Nieman, who hit home runs in his first two times at bat making his major-league bow last Fall, aspires to be a sports writer. Miss Youngen catches for the Fort Wayne Daisies of the All-American Girls' League. (NEA)

Off the Record

By Bill Werley
Sports Editor

I received this letter in the mail today:

"Dear Bill:
"With the first conference game coming up this week, let's all get behind the Lion basketball team and make them feel as if the entire city has appreciated what they have done thus far.

"Why not have the 'Band' at all home conference games—and best of all, let's fill the high school gym to capacity."

Yours for better sports,
"A Group of Lion Supporters."

I, too, would like to see a packed gym at all of the Lion conference games—but I doubt if it will occur.

For some reason people in this area just don't seem to show the same enthusiasm for basketball as they do for football.

Of course, the narrow confines of the high school gym is certainly no incentive for people to turn out for the games—but let's look at it this way:

Those boys, most of them football players, give a lot of their time in order to play basketball. In order that YOU might have an opportunity for entertainment.

The majority of the boys get nothing out of basketball except the love of the game. They get no money for playing, but TIL regulations say that only one letter can be awarded—so they cannot get another award for playing basketball.

Too, it isn't their fault that the gym is more the size of a crackbox than anything else. They still play good—clean basketball. That monotony was built before many of the boys now playing were even born.

About the band being there—that, of course, is up to the school. They control policies of the band. They may have already decided on whether the band should play at basketball games—I don't know.

I do believe that we should all turn out to watch the Lion basketball team in action. At all previous games over 50 per cent of the crowd has been made up of students.

Sure, the gym is small—but let's still pack that small space and show the Lions they have our support.
I'll be there—will you?

FISH SALE

Rome, (AP)—A whale-sized fish fry has just been reported from Chile.

Vendors on top of Santa Lucia Hill, outside Santiago, sold 75,000 pounds of fried fish—mostly hake—to the 250,000 visitors attracted there by Chile's fish week exhibits. Thousands of pounds more were distributed free to the poor in Santiago.

A report on the big fish fry was sent here to the fisheries division of the Food and Agriculture Organization of the U. N. The Chilean Government put on the fish week to boost interest in fishing and in fish as food.

CHANGE OF PACE—This 25-horsepower outboard motor attains up to 30 miles-an-hour for aquaplane stunts and getting there in a hurry. The big twin still may be revved down to good trolling speeds with the same excellent performance. Famous Coach Says Football Is Not Sport

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., Jan. 17. (AP)—Some of the things wrong with college football today are caused by "increased intensity due to the lack of tenure among the coaches," in the opinion of Amos Alonzo Stagg.

He is sponsor of a resolution adopted by the NCAA rules committee yesterday saying coaches and officials have contributed to "undesirable trends."

"Unfortunately, it's a life and death struggle with most of the coaches because they're not sure of holding their jobs. So if they can beat the rules a little bit, they're inclined by the pressure to do it."

"It isn't a game with some," he said.

The dean of coaches with 60 years behind him, Stagg suggested this cure:

"Coaches should be teachers and regarded as teachers. They should have stability in their position the same as other members of the faculty."

"They should be regarded for their teaching ability not their winning ability. Judge them from their coaches."

One of his former players and assistants, Fritz Crisler, was chairman of the rules committee which was preoccupied for three days mostly in trying to restore clean and sportsmanlike football.

While the committee said in effect it's up to the coaches and officials to cut out the rough stuff, it made the penalties more drastic.

A player using elbows, forearms or locked arms to hit an opponent is to be thrown out of the game and his team penalized 15 yards. The rule against piling on was strengthened. Defensive holding will draw a 15-yard penalty instead of five.

'STRIPES' CAUSE MINOR FUROR

Bonn, Germany, (AP)—A bootleg copy of the Army newspaper, Stars and Stripes, has sent State Department and Army officials into a tizzy. It raised this question:

How can German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer get his daily copy of Stars and Stripes—legally?

A high German official has been sending out a messenger daily to buy a bootleg copy. The catch is that a German cannot legally buy "Stripes." It sells only for American money—the scrip issued to troops—and Germans are forbidden by Army regulations from possessing scrip.

HAPPY THOUGH WORKING

Los Angeles, (AP)—Want the key to happiness while at work? "Forget yourself; do the job in the best way possible," says Dr. George F. J. Lehner, associate professor of psychology at the University of California at Los Angeles. Don't concentrate on what kind of impression you're making. That's ego-centered and brings anxiety and negative results. If you try to do the job as well as you know how and accept criticism and profit from it, the job will become easier. And you'll be a better person to work with.

Pro Grid League To Begin Draft

New York, Jan. 17. (AP)—The National Football League, having all but officially rejected Commissioner Bert Bell's proposals for elimination of the point after touch down and for a sudden death playoff of tie games, swung into the first order of business today—the annual college draft.

The convention opened with a special bonus choice in which only seven of the 12 teams were eligible. They included Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Chicago Cardinals, Los Angeles, New York Yanks, San Francisco and Green Bay. The others were not eligible as they had received bonus picks in previous years.

A Pittsburgh spokesman disclosed the Steelers would select Babe Parilli, Kentucky's great quarterback, as their bonus choice should they be lucky enough to win the draw.

Others rated as possible bonus picks included backs Bill Wade, Vanderbilt; Ed Modzelewski, Maryland; Vic Janovick, Ohio State; Johnny Karras, Illinois; Ollie Matson, San Francisco and Lineman Bob Ward, Maryland, and Jim Weatherall, Oklahoma.

Apart from the bonus, the Yanks get first pick as the team with the lowest percentage last season. Each team is allowed to select up to 30 college seniors. The draft is expected to last far into the night.

Rawlings Beats Bolanos on TKO

Chicago, Jan. 17. (AP)—Luther Rawlings, Chicago lightweight, today awaited definite word of his pending championship match with Jimmy Carter in the Chicago stadium Feb. 20.

Rawlings qualified for a bout with Carter by smearing a fifth-round technical knockout over Enrique Bolanos' long record in the stadium last night. Both weighed 143.

Matchmaker Al Weill and International Boxing Club executive Truman Gibson went to New York in an effort to sign Carter for the Feb. 20 showdown. Rawlings is rated No. 1 contender for the lightweight title.

Veteran Bolanos made it a thrill-packed scrap for four rounds. He rallied in the third and fourth, trading blows savagely which brought the slim crowd of 3,199 fans up cheering wildly.

Cage Play Slows For Mid-Season

New York, Jan. 17. (AP)—This time a year ago Columbia's basketball team was unbeaten and in the midst of a 22-game winning streak.

This season it's different for the lads on Morningside Heights. They lost their fifth game of the season last night, a 66 to 64 thriller to Pennsylvania.

It was the 2nd straight Ivy League defeat for the defending champions and shattered their home court winning streak of 27 games.

The game was one of the few of national importance. In other major eastern tilts, Carnegie Tech upset Pitt, 65-56, and Fordham beat Princeton, 72-66.

In the South, once-beaten Florida drubbed Georgia, 74-55, and William and Mary edged Washington and Lee, 84-82.

Dayton trounced Eastern Kentucky, 90-73, and Toledo went overtime to take Wayne of Detroit, 62-60, in the Midwest.

In the border conference, Hardin-Simmons nipped Arizona State, Flagstaff, 52-51. On the Pacific Coast Whitman edged Gonzaga, 57-56.

Maggie Maids Miss—Get Defeated 44 to 0

Richmond, Va., Jan. 17. (AP)—The Maggie Walker High School girls' basketball team tried its darndest to make a basket in a game here last night.

The ball caromed off the backboard, it did dippy-doo around the edge of the ring. Often it looked as if, for a certainty, it would go through the net.

But it didn't—nary a time. Carver High, Chester, won the game by a shutout, 44-0.

New Baseball Salary Plan Announced by Government

Washington, Jan. 17. (AP)—The New York Giants, National League pennant winners, may get hurt by a new government ruling on baseball salaries, a Major League club official predicts.

Pennant winners usually boost salaries sharply the following year. The new ruling doesn't cover this and the Giants apparently will not be able to spend more than in 1951.

Calvin Griffith, vice president of the Washington Senators, made the prediction.

The new policy announced last night set a ceiling on club payrolls rather than salaries of individual players, as the old rule did.

It gives club owners this choice of a payroll ceiling:

1. The payroll in any year from 1946 through 1950 plus a flat 10 per cent.

2. The payroll in 1951 without the 10 per cent. Included in the payroll are all players, player-coaches and player-managers but no administrative personnel.

The club may parcel out its payroll to players any way it wants. Left temporarily unanswered were these questions:

1. Would the St. Louis Cardinals' Stan Musial, the National League's top hitter last year, get his long-sought 1951 increase from $50,000 to a reported $85,000?

One official connected with the board said flatly: "We don't make it retroactive."

But another told a reporter he was certain it was the board's intent to take care of Musial's salary problem.

2. What would happen to a club like the Giants? Griffith said pennant winners normally increase their payroll by 20 and sometimes 25 per cent the following year.

Obviously a 10 per cent payroll raise over 1946-50 rates—or no raise over last year's rates—would, as Griffith put it, "hurt the Giants."

One part of the new policy may be designed for just such a contingency. It says that if a club's proposed budget exceeds the ceiling "because of unusual circumstances" that club may petition the board for "special release."

The New York Yankees, last year's World Series winner, would seem to be in the clear.

Joe DiMaggio has announced he won't be on the ball field next year. That means the Yankees will have DiMaggio's reported $100,000 salary to play around with.

3. But what about the St. Louis Browns? Bill Veeck, new Brown owner, is out to build up the traditionally tail-end American League club. Can he do it on a 10 per cent payroll boost? Again, it's obvious that here's another "unusual circumstance" which the board will be asked to study as a "special case."

Tampa Open Golf Tourney Opens With Strong Field

Tampa, Fla., Jan. 17. (AP)—Forty-four pros, including Babe Didrikson Zaharias, will lead a record field of 183 players after $3,500 in prize money in the Tampa Women's Open golf tournament opening today.

Other top pros include Betty Jameson, Patty Berg, Marlene and Alice Bauer, Betty Bush, Betsy Rawls, Peggy Kirk, Marilyn Smith, Betty Dodd, Shirley Spork, Beverly Hanson and Betty McKinnon.

In the 1951 New York State Legislature the Republicans had a total majority of 32 in both houses.

Calcutta Pool Is Scored by Golf Mentor

Denton, Jan. 17. (AP)—Gambling isn't going to be flouted before his golfers if he can help it, says Fred Cobb, coach of the National Collegiate champions of North Texas State.

This year he says he won't permit his boys to enter any tournament that has a Calcutta Pool in which the players are auctioned off.

And North Texas State, champion three straight years in the National Collegiate Athletic Association tournament and producer of the 1951 National Amateur king—Billy Maxwell—is coming up with another strong squad. They'll be wanted in all the invitation tournaments.

Cobb relates some incidents to illustrate the ill effects of the Calcutta Pool. He says he once saw a man offer a prominent amateur golfer $300 to lose a match. "The golfer threw the five one hundred dollar bills in a sand trap and strode on in disgust," Cobb says.

"We mustn't have such things," he declares—and that's why he doesn't intend to let his boys play in a tournament with the play-auction Calcutta Pool. He wants to remove the chances of a scandal in golf such as hit college basketball.

This dispute the fact that North Texas State is having all sorts of trouble getting golf meets. Few of the colleges want to play the Eagle linksmen. "It seems a little foolish in a way because all of them would have everything to gain and nothing to lose if they did play us, but the Southwest Conference teams have shown no interest at all," Cobb said.

Service Basketball Tourney Planned for Amarillo AFB

Dallas, Jan. 17. (AP)—A basketball tournament for service teams—and 100 can be entered—will be sponsored by the Texas Amateur Athletic Federation at Amarillo in March.

Graham Pierce, Dallas, TAAF president, said the tournament would be at the Amarillo Air Force Base and would have two brackets—one for teams represented entire posts and the other for company and wing teams.

The teams will be housed at Amarillo Air Force Base and 100 can be handled.

The tournament will be held March 10-15 with J. W. Standifer, Borger, as director.

Indianapolis—Hilton U. Brown, 92-year-old dean of Indiana newspapermen, has fulfilled an "urgency that came with old age"—the publication of his autobiography.

I required two years of writing and a fidgety wait for public reaction, but "A Book of Memories" has now been issued, unfolding the story—not of his life—but of his times and friends.

Brown has been with the Indianapolis News for 70 years and has been associated with Butler University 77 years. He still is actively interested in both. The News' Associated Press membership certificate is held by Mr. Brown.

"When one writes an autobiography," Brown begins his book, "he is practically preparing his own funeral sermon and reminding his friends that at the obsequies he will be present but not voting."

Brown, gentle-mannered and highly respected by colleagues and friends, has filled the book with lively incidents, many of them poking fun at himself.

One chapter deals with the visit to Indianapolis of Queen Marie of Romania. However, his modesty prohibited him from telling how the Queen, after she left Indianapolis, told New York reporters that the most polished, most handsome and most cultured gentleman she met on her tour of the United States was Hilton U. Brown of Indianapolis.

Describing himself in "my sunset days of life," Brown dedicated the book to "generations of boys and girls who through the years have tobogganed on Brown's Hill."

ARKANSAS QUADS DOING FINE—Snuggled in their incubators at the Howard Memorial Hospital at Nashville, Ark., are, left to right, Mr. A., Mr. B., Miss C. and Mr. D., quadruplets born to Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Ponder at their home at Murfreesboro, Ark. Arriving 15 minutes apart, all four were bundled up by Mr. Ponder and driven 20 miles to the hospital, where he rushed in shouting, "I've got four babies and they are all mine."

RED FILM PREDICTED

Lindewerra, Germany. (AP) — German Communists are faking propaganda movies to show that the East is a land of refuge from the terrorist West. Dock workers at this little border town in the U. S. Zone can tell you how it's done. The other day they noticed that a ferry which plies the Werra River between here and the Soviet Zone was chugging toward the dock ahead of schedule.

"Go back! Go back!" they yelled. "You're an hour early. We can't handle you now."

As they waved their arms angrily to motion the ferry back they saw a camera crew perched on the ferry filming their protestations. A few days later the dock workers saw the same camera crew set up across the stream in the Soviet Zone. Three men in civilian clothes waded out into the stream toward them, then turned and started swimming back to the Soviet Zone shore. The camera crew went into action. The dock workers predict the finished production will show how three men "escaped" their "pursuers" in the "terror-ridden" U. S. Zone and were received in the Soviet Zone with open arms.

Buick Displays 1952 Car Line

Flint, Mich.—Buick today introduced its 1952 line of cars and turned the spotlight on its new Airpower carburetor, described by Buick engineers as the greatest improvement in carburetion in a decade.

The 1952 line, freshly restyled inside and out, includes 16 body styles in four horsepower ratings and four wheelbases. Eight models are offered in the Special Series and four each in the Super and custom-built Roadmaster Series.

The new cars will go on display in dealer showrooms Saturday, Jan. 19.

The new four-barrel Airpower carburetor, which is featured on the Roadmaster only, tops the list of engineering improvements for 1952. This carburetor, along with a change in manifolding and an increase in the compression ratio, boosts the horsepower output of the Roadmaster Fireball-eight engine to 170, and improves gasoline mileage and performance throughout the entire speed range. The compression ratio has been increased from 7.2 to 1 to 7.5 to 1.

Power Steering, which takes most of the effort out of driving, is offered as an option on the Roadmaster. New and bigger front wheel brakes are featured on all models.

Improvements in body and engine mountings, and insulation, plus an even more generous use of sound deadener, make all 1952 Buicks quieter, adding to passenger comfort.

"We believe these improvements, coupled with our new styling features, make Buick the outstanding car value for 1952," said Ivan L. White, general manager of Buick and vice president of General Motors.

Style-wise the 1952 Buick is new from every angle. New rear fender ornaments, smartly styled in chrome, and a higher arc rear

Buick's 1952 Roadmaster Riviera Coupe

New sweepers moldings, new rear fender ornaments and a redesigned bumper-grille combination distinguish this two-door Buick Roadmaster Riviera for 1952. It features a new Airpower carburetor, higher compression and new manifolding that boosts the horsepower output of its Fireball-eight engine to 170 with improved economy and performance. A higher arc rear deck lid raises the silhouette of the rear section and provides seven per cent more room in the luggage compartment. High luster stainless steel wheelcovers embossed with the Buick emblem add a final touch of distinction for 1952. Luxurious custom trim upholstery is offered on this model in exquisite two-tone combinations in nylon and leather.

deck lid on the Super and Roadmaster Series, raise the silhouette of the rear section. The new trunk lid provides seven per cent more room in the luggage compartment. Rear fender ornaments also are featured on the Special Series.

A restyled bumper-grille combination that retains that low, road-hugging effect characteristic of Buick styling, and handsome new sweepers moldings add fresh beauty to the overall appearance of the car. Stainless steel rocker panel moldings previously featured on the Roadmaster only, have been added to all series.

New high luster, stainless steel wheel covers, embossed with the Buick emblem in the center, add a further touch of distinction to the 1952 line. The series designation has been moved from the rear deck lid to the rear fenders.

Buick's new four-barrel Airpower carburetor consists of two dual carburetors built into a single, compact unit for maximum efficiency.

The primary carburetor is complete within itself and functions at all times. The secondary carburetor contains only an idle system and a main metering system. It supplements the primary carburetor when maximum acceleration and speed are desired, giving the engine a "second wind" for greater performance.

Delay on Gas Hearings Due

Washington, Jan. 17. (AP)—An indefinite delay in hearings on applications affecting natural gas deliveries in parts of the Southwest has been ordered by the Federal Power Commission.

The action followed withdrawal yesterday by the West Texas Co., Lubbock, Texas, of a request for a pipeline construction permit.

Attorneys for the firm told the FPC a changed supply situation necessitated the withdrawal but it would be rewritten and filed again.

The company had proposed pipelines in Randall and Potter counties in Texas to increase its system's capacity from 111 million to 135 million cubic feet of gas daily.

The withdrawal came as a Commission examiner opened a hearing on applications of the West Texas Gas Co., Dallas; and El Paso Natural Gas Co., El Paso.

El Paso seeks authority to reduce deliveries to West Texas Gas and Southern Union asks permission to increase deliveries to the Clovis, N. M., region.

Birth of Quads Causes Uproar

Murfreesboro, Ark., Jan. 17. (AP)—The auto roared to a stop at the service station. Tires screeched. Bits of gravel showered through the air.

The driver jumped from the car. He tried unsuccessfully to get his key to fit the lock on the car's gas tank cap.

Clifton Altha, owner of the station, offered a hand.

The driver then ran to the front of the car and began filling the radiator.

Altha then heard a baby cry. A woman passenger in the car held up a blanket. She had two babies in her lap.

"Oh, twins," said Altha and went on filling the gas tank. He was the father of twins himself.

Another woman in the car told Altha to look in the back seat. There were two more infants. Another woman had them wrapped in a blanket.

That was about 8 p. m. (CST) Monday, a few minutes after 38-year-old Mrs. Hagai Ponder had given birth to quadruplets at a small farm house near here.

Her husband, Leonard, 41, was taking the infants to a hospital at Nashville, about 20 miles southwest of here.

His car needed gas to make the trip.

Altha said that when he saw the four babies he got as excited as the father.

About that time, Ponder ran back from the front of the car, jumped under the wheel and yelled "how much do I owe you?"

"Not a penny," said Altha. The excited Ponder drove off toward Nashville.

He made the trip in good shape.

The babies, three boys and a girl, were placed in incubators.

The infants—the parents haven't named them yet—are in a private room at the hospital. Rules prohibit infants born outside the hospital from being quartered with those in the nursery. The room is closed to the public.

Hospital attendants said the quads were in good shape and predicted they would survive. Each baby weighed about 3½ pounds.

The Ponders have been married 21 years. They have eight other children, all born separately. Their ages range from 2 to 18. Seven of the children live with their parents in a shabby, 4-room farm house. The eighth, George, 18, is in California.

Ponder currently is unemployed. He said he was too excited to look for a job for awhile.

The District of Columbia was originally 100 square miles and was taken from the states of Maryland and Virginia.

Chemistry May Be Near to Producing Synthetic Fuel

New York, Jan. 17. (AP)—Chemistry may break the deadlock between the government and the oil industry and produce synthetic gasoline commercially "much sooner than many think."

This is the opinion of the research manager of Koppers Company in Pittsburgh in announcing today its research department is going to set up a pilot plant for conversion of coal to synthetic liquid fuels. What they'll aim at is not so much the synthetic gasoline they'll make but the valuable chemicals the process will also turn out.

Government officials are plugging steadily for commercial plants to turn coal or shale into gasoline and fuel oils. They contend this would be a national safeguard if war should deplete present supplies of petroleum. And they think the synthetic gasoline can be produced from our abundant coal and shale supplies almost as cheaply as from petroleum.

Oil industry leaders have criticized this contention. They claim the synthetic gasoline would be far more expensive to produce and say the tax money and steel would be better used to expand the oil industry facilities. They also say oil reserves are sufficient for even a war emergency.

Dr. G. F. D'Alleio, Koppers research manager, agrees with both sides to some extent. He says: "while plants to make gasoline from coal are costly to build and gasoline could not presently be produced in them at prices in competition with petroleum gasoline, research is finding ways to produce an increasing number of valuable chemicals in such processes."

"These processes can be regulated to produce more chemicals and less gasoline. It is here that upgrading of products may result in a 'coal to gasoline' plant becoming economically feasible much sooner than many think."

The Koppers pilot plant at Verona, Pa., will produce gasoline of aviation rating but also a long list of aromatic chemicals such as benzene, and also phenols and cresols, alcohols, aldehydes, ketones and fatty acids. The commercial value of these would make plant operation profitable.

Koppers is spending its own money on this pilot plant.

The steel needed should go to the oil industry, says Frank M. Porter, president of the American Petroleum Industry. Last year the industry drilled a record 44,000 new wells. Porter says it can drill 50,000 this year if the government will allot the steel.

Oil men and government officials differ sharply as to the cost of operating synthetic fuels plants. The Bureau of Mines estimates a coal hydrogenation plant would cost $411 million. The National Petroleum Council estimates the cost at $533 million.

The bureau thinks that if the synthetic gasoline cost 11 cents a gallon to produce, the investors would get a six per cent return on their money. The council says that to get six per cent the investors would have to sell the gasoline at 41 cents a gallon.

22 Waco Youths Accused Of Grave Robbing Thursday

Waco, Jan. 17. (P)—Twenty-two Waco youths, some so young they have been turned over to juvenile authorities, stood accused today of grave robbing.

Felony complaints were filed against 17 of the youths whose ages ranged from 17 to 19. Four younger boys were turned over to a probation officer.

Another, a student of the University of Texas, was charged with desecrating a grave.

Arrests of the teen-agers grew from discovery Sunday night of an open grave in an old cemetery no longer used for burials. Bones were found around the broken crypt. No positive identification of the grave was possible but a 92-year-old man said he was "pretty sure it was Leman Johnson's grave."

Leman Johnson, "Uncle Bob" Smith said, "was a gambler and was as fine a man as ever lived. He died in 1873 or 1874." Leman Johnson has no known survivors.

Asst. Dist. Atty. A. David Copland gave this account: The boys gathered at a drive-in ice cream stand and went from there to the cemetery. They opened the grave, had some trouble forcing the casket from the crypt, but finally removed it.

As the 70-year-old brass casket was moved, the bottom fell out and bones clattered back into the grave.

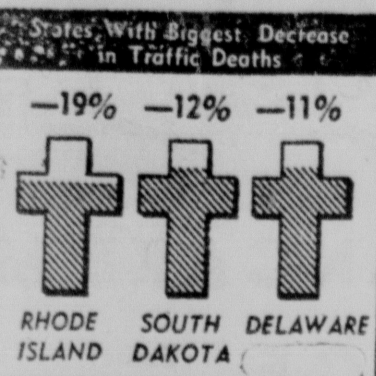

The boys loaded the casket into a car and took it to the Baylor University stadium. But they feared a police patrol might find them there, so they carted it back to an ice cream stand.

To get rid of it later, they dumped the casket into Lake Waco. It was found Tuesday on a dump ground at Valley Mills.

The boys told officers they didn't know how the casket got to the Valley Mills junk yard. Officers speculated some of the boys took it out of the shallow water of Lake Waco in another attempt to hide it.

Copland said the charges against 17 of the youths carry a maximum penalty of 25 years in prison. Ten of the boys made $500 bond when arraigned last night. Warrants were sworn out against eight others.

Cities of 200,000 or More With Biggest Decrease in Traffic Deaths

Traffic deaths during first 11 months of 1951 numbered 33,760 and topped 1950's toll for same period by seven per cent, according to the National Safety Council. Yet several states and cities reported decreases. Best safety records are shown above.

HEROS—The fears of a French orphan that he would let down his adopted America have ended. He has been killed in action in Korea. Cpl. Alexander Stewart, left, who took the name after reading biographies of Alexander the Great and Confederate Hero Jeb Stuart, was adopted by members of the 34th Division as a 12-year-old mascot in North Africa in World War II, and was wounded twice before he was 14. His guardian lives in Houston, Texas. Joseph Amico, right, ran his crash-boat alongside the Northeast Airliner that crashed-landed in the East River within five minutes after the plane fell down and removed 25 persons from the half-submerged wreckage. All persons aboard the plane were saved.

COOKING'S FUN!

YELLOW LAYER CAKE

2 cups sugar, sifted
1 cup butter or Crisco
4 egg yolks
1 1/2 tsp vanilla
2-3 cups sifted cake flour
1 1/2 tsp baking powder
1/2 tsp salt
1 cup milk
4 egg whites
1/2 tsp salt

Beat shortening until soft. Add sugar gradually and cream until very light. Add egg yolks one at a time. Add vanilla. Sift flour, baking powder and salt together several times. Add sifted dry ingredients and the milk alternately to the sugar-shortening mixture. The batter will be better if you add the flour last. Beat until smooth after each addition of dry or milk ingredients. Whip the egg whites until stiff but not dry. Fold in lightly. Bake, preferably in two square pans, in a 350-degree oven for about 45 minutes, or until the cake will not stick to a toothpick when tested.

Pineapple Filling:

1 cup sugar
1 tsp flour
3/4 cup crushed pineapple
3 egg yolks, beaten
1 1/2 tsp lemon juice
1 tsp butter

Blend sugar with flour and add pineapple. Add remaining ingredients. Cook over low, direct heat, stirring constantly until smooth. Cool and spread between layers and on top of cake.

DEVILED CRABS

1 pound can crab meat
3 hardboiled eggs
3 tsp butter
2 tsp lemon juice
2 tsp French's prepared mustard
1 tsp Lee & Perrin sauce
1/2 cup hot water
Cayenne, salt, paprika to taste
1 cup cracker crumbs

Drain liquor from crab meat, discarding bones and fiber. Make a sauce by rubbing the yolks of eggs into butter. Add lemon juice, mustard, Lea & Perrin sauce, hot water, cayenne, salt and paprika. Chop egg whites and add to mixture. Add cracker crumbs and crab meat. Mix all well and put into crab shells or ramekins, topping with buttered crumbs. Bake in moderate oven until a golden brown. Serve with lemon slices and sprigs of parsley.

New Gestation Tables for Cows

You can't depend on one gestation table for all breeds of dairy cattle. That's what the dairy scientists of the country decided after careful study of the facts.

The actual records on thousands of dairy cows show these times to be approximately correct: for Ayrshires, Holsteins, and Jerseys, 279 days; for Guernseys, 284 days; for Brown Swiss, 291 days. Subtract 2 days for first-calf heifers in each breed.

The scientists recommend that these new times be adopted as official. So dairy herd owners who keep breeding records should enter the new gestation times right on the breeding record in permanent ink lettering.

ORDER DISMISSED

Texarkana, Jan. 17. (P)—A temporary restraining order banning picketing at the Lone Star ordinance plant was dismissed yesterday by Federal Judge Joe Sheehy. Day and Zimmermann, Inc., had petitioned the action, saying all "matters involved have been settled by agreement."

DON'T WASTE TAXES!

Dalzell, Ill. (P)—Arthur "Heck" Tonelli, Mayor of this town of 2,266 persons, advises any resident contemplating purchasing a Federal gambling tax stamp to save his money. Tonelli said it would be "money wasted" if anyone in Dalzell thinks buying such a permit will entitle him to carry on gambling operations.

Ice Melting Derby Still Unsettled

(By The Associated Press)
A challenge to a duel with ice tongs (at 50 paces) was only one of the downright mean developments today in the wake of the ice melting derby.

The contest began Tuesday morning when various claimants to the title of "Winter Playground" placed piles of ice on downtown sidewalks. The city whose ice melted first was supposed to be winner.

The duel was proposed by C. E. McClelland, managing editor of The Galveston News and Tribune. He flung his challenge at Frank Kindell of the Carlsbad, N. M., Chamber of Commerce. Kindell, in denying Galveston's victory claim, had called Galveston a "swamp town."

Other developments hot off chamber of commerce mimeographs:

McAllen (Chamber of Commerce Manager Paul T. Vickers speaking): The "City of Palms" ignored the contest because "our 83-degree weather was so hot we feared if a ton of ice were placed downtown, the rapid melting would cause a flash flood."

Corpus Christi: We won, because Galveston put its ice out an hour late. Also, Galveston (and several other cities) had bathing beauties sit on the ice. Our bathing beauties just leaned on the ice.

El Paso (three El Paso Times staff members speaking): We won early this morning when our ice melted. Corpus Christi and Galveston were disqualified by using bathing beauties to melt the ice.

Carlsbad (Kindell speaking): "If ice melted faster anywhere else, the rules must have been violated." Carlsbad still had some ice left at midnight last night.

New Smyrna, Fla. (Mayor C. B. Jones in telegram to Kindell): "No wind, no rain, no fog, no smog, no bathing girls—our ice melted by the power of unadulterated Florida sun."

Los Angeles ice, other entrants claimed, was melted by steady rain.

According to zoologists bats do not make nests.

Texan Will Run For President

Pampa, Jan. 17. (P)—Texan Dan Allender, who sells furniture in Dalhart and wants to be president, says he will enter the Democratic primaries in New Hampshire.

Allender, who first said he would run on an independent ticket, said today he would go to Concord, N. H., early next week to obtain the 100 names required on an application before a candidate's name may be entered on the New Hampshire ballot.

The furniture dealer said last December when he first announced he would make a presidential attempt that he wanted to run the government "on a businesslike basis."

"I don't know of anyone in the White House who knows a thing about business administration," he said.

If he fails to get the Democratic nomination, Allender said he would run anyway—as an independent. He plans to spend about two weeks in New Hampshire.

WORK MAY START SOON

Brownsville, Jan. 17. (P)—County Commissioner Andy Bowie be-

VICTIM OF MINE BLAST—Stretcher bearers carry the body of a victim through the snow after it was recovered from the McGregor coal mine in Stallaton, N. S., which was rocked by a violent underground explosion. Three of the 22 miners at work in the pit escaped, the other 19 were killed.

lieves work may be able to start soon on Cameron County's Port Isabel-to-Padre Island causeway. Bowie said yesterday the Bureau of Public Roads in Washington had assured him steel will be made available for the causeway in the last half of 1952 and early 1953. The commissioner added that sale of revenue bonds, he believed, would be approved now that steel will be available.

FALSE TEETH

That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

THE AUSTRALIAN PREFERENCE

Sydney, (P)—Recent Gallup polls in Australia show that the Australians favor immigration, like trade unions, read travel and mystery novels and favor price control.

When it comes to sports, two out of three adult Australians prefer to leave it to the teen-agers. Among those who do indulge, tennis is the most popular until the age of 50. After that something called "lawn bowls" takes over in popularity.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt vetoed more bills than any other U. S. President in history, a total of 631. This was 156 more vetoes than the second highest total amassed by President Cleveland.

Willys Dealers Unveil New Aero Sedan on Friday

Toledo, Ohio—A sleek new aero-dynamically-engineered passenger sedan, long rumored as the car which may prove to be the automotive industry's most outstanding design innovation in 1952, is being unveiled Friday by dealers of Willys-Overland Motors, Inc., throughout the country, and will be shown in Vernon by the Judd Motor Co.

This first conventional-type passenger car to be built by Willys since early 1942 is powered with "one of the world's most efficient automotive engines and has 90 features that add up to an entirely new concept of motoring convenience, comfort and economy," Ward M. Canaday, president, stated.

It is named the Aero Willys because of being "more fully engineered than any previous automobile to combine principles of aeronautical design with advanced automotive engineering," Canaday said.

Disclosing specifications and other details for the first time, Canaday said the Aero Willys has been designed specifically with today's high-cost, high-tax economy in mind.

Its gasoline economy is unsurpassed by any other full-size car, according to Willys engineers. Their tests indicate that up to 35 miles to the gallon can be obtained with overdrive at 30 miles per hour, using regular gasoline.

Fuel savings are proportionate at higher speeds, and it is possible to go over 500 miles in the Aero Willys on one tankful of gas when traveling at constant speeds even up to 50 miles an hour, they emphasized. The car cruises at 75 miles an hour, they said, using only 65 per cent of engine power.

The revolutionary new six cylinder engine that delivers this mileage and performance is named the "Hurricane 6." It is the only automotive engine being built in America with F-head design, but which has been used for years in the highly regarded British-built Bentley and Rolls Royce automobiles.

According to Willys engineers, the new Hurricane 6 is at present "unmatched by any full-size passenger car engine in America for power in relation to size. It develops 90 horsepower and has the very high compression ratio of 7.6 to 1. It produces .560 horsepower per cubic inch of displacement, surpassing even America's most costly automobiles."

Company engineers called particular attention to the "roomy comfort, beautiful lines and fine riding qualities heretofore associated only with expensive, long wheelbase automobiles which have been successfully engineered into the compact nine-foot wheelbase and 15-foot overall length of the Aero Willys."

Sixty-one inches of seating width, both front and rear, gives the Aero Willys an interior dimension wider than most cars, even those in a considerably higher price bracket, they stated. Headroom of 35.5 inches in front and 34.25 inches in the rear, combined with 43.5 inches legroom in front and 37.25-inch legroom in the rear completes the provision of adequate space for six full-grown adults in the Aero Willys.

In contrast to the wide 61 inches inside is an exterior width of only 72 inches, narrower than most cars and providing a full foot of clearance either side in entering a standard eight-foot garage doorway.

"Aero-frame construction, following principles closely similar to those used in airplane building, has been used to provide a stressed-steel body having reinforcing steel members welded into one strong, solidly rigid unit," the engineers said.

Moderate Rise in Inflation Trend Predicted for 1952

Washington, Jan. 17. (AP)—The President's council of economic advisers today forecast only a "moderate" rise of inflationary pressures throughout 1952, if Government controls remain intact.

But the consumer is the question mark. He has saved instead of spent for nine months. If he should suddenly invade the market with his record earnings and unprecedented savings, the council fears "another inflationary upsurge."

This could be "even more serious" than the mid-1950 buying wave touched off by the Communist invasion of South Korea or the buying when China joined the Korean Reds a year ago, the advisers said, because "it would start from milder conditions of supply in many sectors of the economy."

The three-man council—Chairman Leon Keyserling, Dr. John D. Clark and Roy Blough—sent its economic review to Congress along with President Truman's annual economic message.

The council saw in the steel wage dispute, now before the Wage Stabilization Board, a possible major threat to "effective price control." Steel companies have insisted they can not grant CIO steel workers a wage boost without an increase in prices. The council argued for absorption of wage increases where possible.

The council endorsed Mr. Truman's request for a five billion dollar tax increase in 1952 and rejected emphatically the proposal, heard frequently in Congress last year, of a general sales tax—whether or not "disguised as manufacturers' excise tax."

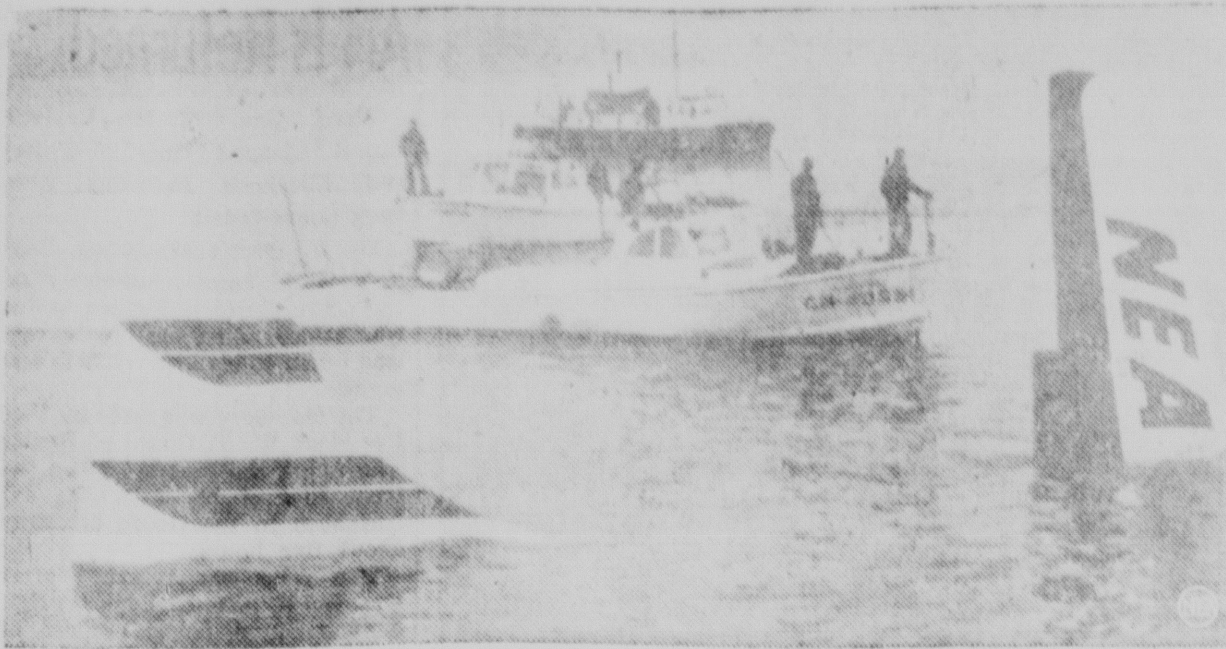

The advisers conceded that taxes have risen rapidly and to such levels that their tendency to discourage business expansion and investment "must be carefully watched."

"Nevertheless," the report added, "we do not believe that the economic limit of taxation has been reached."

On the other hand, the council disputed the proposal of some business groups, including the National Association of Manufacturers and United States Chamber of Commerce, for the abandonment of direct ceilings and the placing of full anti-inflation reliance on taxes and general credit policy.

If taxes are pushed too high, they may "heighten the demand for higher wages and for larger gross business profits," thus frustrating their anti-inflationary purpose, it was held. Higher interest rates, the usual tool of credit policy, increase the cost of capital and thus inflate the cost of doing business.

"Moreover, both tax and credit measures, if pushed too far, may so impede production as to be self-defeating," the council warned.

ROYAL ROMANCE?—Red hair "Johnny Dalketh," left, 28-year-old Earl of Dalketh, was visiting Princess Margaret at Sandringham under circumstances remarkably similar to those preceding the engagement of Elizabeth and Phillip.

BACK DANIEL

Fort Worth, Jan. 17. (AP)—A group of Fort Worth citizens have formed the "Tarrant County for Price Daniel Club." The chairman of the group, Homa Hill, said the club wanted Daniel to run against Tom Connally for the Senate.

TRIAL SCHEDULED

Beaumont, Jan. 17. (AP)—Trial of the $150 million suit for damages and title of the rich Spindletop oil field has been set for March 10 here. Plaintiffs in the 60th District Court suit are 14 residents of Tennessee and five Ohioans. Defendants are ten oil companies and several individuals. The plaintiffs claim they are heirs of Pelham Humphries who owned the land on which Spindletop is situated in 1835. About 140 million barrels of oil have been taken from the ground since the field's discovery in 1901.

ALL SAVED—With only the tail and part of a wing section above water, rescue craft circle the wreckage of a Northeast Airlines search of passengers and crew members of the ill fated plane which crashed landed in the East River in New York. The 36 persons aboard were all saved.

A. J. Barker Asks Precinct Office

A. J. Barker has announced as a candidate for Justice of the Peace, Precinct 1, Place 1, subject to the action of voters in the Democratic primaries. In announcing his candidacy, Mr. Barker made the following statement:

"I came to Wilbarger County in 1922 and engaged in farming until 1941. I have been in the laundry business in Vernon at the corner of Eagle and Maiden streets for the past four years. I have never before sought a public office, but I feel I am fully qualified to discharge the duties of this position."

"If elected, it will be my purpose to do all in my power to carry out the duties of the office in a common sense manner, doing justice to all alike. I believe in enforcing the law and doing everything possible to protect the law-abiding people of the community and at the same time be fair with those who may be brought into court charged with some violation of the law.

"I probably will not be able to see all the voters in the precinct, but I will put forth as much effort in that direction as time will permit. However, I want all the voters to accept this announcement as a personal solicitation and I assure one and all that I shall appreciate any consideration given to me. If elected, I shall show my appreciation by giving my best efforts to the duties of the office."

IT MAY BE YOU

Dallas, Jan. 17. (AP)—Several thousand Texans are overlooking between $750,000 and $1 million says an Internal Revenue official. Kirby Jackson, assistant Internal Revenue collector for North Texas, said about 50,000 Texans have failed to collect income tax refund checks since 1943. Jackson said yesterday the checks average from $15 to $20 each.

Baylor Object of Art Is Returned

Waco, Jan. 17. (AP)—Baylor's errant "Clasped Hands" of Robert and Elizabeth Browning were back home today.

Dr. A. Joseph Armstrong, Baylor's world famous authority on the 18th Century English poets, was asleep when the bronze cast was taken to his home at 8:45 last night.

The discovery was made by Vice President W. T. Gooch of Baylor who found the bronze cast on the front seat of his auto. The car had been in the Gooch driveway about five hours.

The relic was returned after Dr. W. R. White, Baylor president, made a public promise of "no questions asked" if the hands were returned.

The art object, the work of American Sculptress Harriett Hosmer, was taken from its glass case in the Foyer of Meditation in the $3 million Armstrong-Browning Library sometime Monday night.

The white-haired, gaunt Armstrong, much perturbed at the loss of one of his library's treasures, had prayed that the hands of his idols would be returned unharmed.

Except as pieces in his Browning collection, perhaps the world's largest, they had no real value, he said. The person who had given them to Baylor, however, had refused a $5,000 offer for them.

When Dr. Gooch found the hands last night, they were covered with mud as if the famed relic had been hidden in a creek bed or other wet place.

More Shipyard Workers Strike

(By The Associated Press) More shipyard workers at Beaumont and Galveston went out on strike today on wage raise disputes.

They joined workers at the Todd Shipyard and Drydock at Galveston and two shipyards at Mobile, Ala., who struck earlier this week.

Some 1,200 AFL union workers at the Beaumont shipyard were affected. Pickets from the Beaumont Metal Trades Council took up positions in front of the shipyard's main gates soon after 12:01 a. m.

Only an office force was working at the Beaumont yard today. No violence or incidents had been reported.

Henry J. Murphy, Grand Lodge representative of the International Association of Machinists, AFL, said the decision to strike was reached yesterday.

Murphy said the union has two objectives—a 12 per cent wage boost which he said would bring pay at Beaumont in line with shipyard workers on the Pacific Coast, and an increase to diminish the differential in pay between laborers in the area's oil and chemical industries.

Bethlehem officials have made no offer.

An estimated 300 marine repair workers struck at Galveston today, joining some 1,500 who went on strike yesterday and halting all marine repair work in Galveston. All are members of the AFL Metal Trades Council.

The latest group of strikers at Galveston are from approximately eight "topside" repair plants.

The union-company contracts for all the groups in Galveston expired Dec. 31.

Business Set for Few Stiff Jolts

New York, Jan. 17. (AP)—Businessmen are bracing themselves for some fairly unpleasant jolts in the weeks ahead.

Some will be largely psychological. The jolts will come from comparisons of current and developing conditions with the booming opening weeks of 1951, when retail sales and prices were soaring, industrial production climbing and profits at peak highs.

Some of the jolts will be real—production slowdowns and layoffs until defense production takes up the slack of lagging civilian output. Also there may be weakening wholesale prices, and the jolt of the new Federal budget next week with its threat of a growing deficit, and its details as to just who President Truman thinks should pay $5 billion more in taxes.

But against these jolts is the expected boost from increasing defense spending.

Some of the jolts that may lie just ahead:

1. Annual profit statements of many corporations will show sharp drops from 1950, due to rising operating costs bumping price ceilings and heavier taxes.

2. Retail sales figures probably will fall behind last year's abnormal scarce buying for a few more weeks.

3. Industrial production may slip further before it starts to rise again in response to defense output.

Unemployment will grow as a result of any further drop in production.

4. Wholesale prices in general have been weak for some time and are beginning to fall behind the year ago level.

But against these psychological and perhaps fancied jolts to our economy, can be ranged the prospect of more inflation inherent in increased governmental spending.

At least three men were killed and two injured. The plane, a B-17, crashed about 900 feet from the end of a base runway. The names of the dead and injured were not immediately available.

Vatican Got Envoy From U. S. in 1848

By JACK BRUNSINI
AP Newsfeatures

Vatican City—More than 100 years have passed since the United States appointed its first diplomatic representative to the Holy See.

The first man to speak on behalf of the United States at the Vatican was Jacob L. Martin. He died on Aug. 26, 1848, shortly after his appointment here. A darkened tombstone under the black cypresses of the Protestant Cemetery in Rome recalls his death.

"To the memory of J. L. Martin, late Charge D'Affaires of the United States to the Holy See, who died at Rome, Aug. 26, 1848," the tombstone reads.

A Crisis in Europe

The United States decided to send its own representative to the Vatican at a crucial point in European history: when Pope Pius IX was showing strong leadership in building the unity of Italy.

After the troublesome period which followed the fall of Napoleon and the European wars, the European powers strengthened their missions at the Vatican.

Pius IX was named on June 16, 1846, lived through one of the most stormy periods of Italian history, and died a virtual prisoner of the King of Italy on Feb. 7, 1878.

The American appointee arrived two years after the Pontiff had been crowned. Before 1848 the United States had only a consul in Rome.

Storm in Congress

President James K. Polk, a Democrat, recommended to Congress the appointment of a diplomat to the Vatican Dec. 7, 1847. Many anti-clerical and anti-papal speeches were heard in both houses, before April 1, 1848, when the President signed the decree appointing the diplomat.

Martin presented his credentials and read a prepared speech considered by writers at the time "noble and dignified, even if read with too much emphasis."

Martin, in his speech, said the Pope "made so many useful and noble reforms that he deserves to have on earth the prize reserved in heaven for good achievements, and who, having deserved the gratitude of his people, has drawn the admiration of the whole world."

Before coming to Rome, Martin, born in North Carolina in 1798, had been head of a section in the Department of State, and was for a few days Secretary of State.

SNOW STORMS BLOCK HIGHWAYS—This scene of "Fred's Place" on highway 50 in the High Sierras is typical of most areas in Northern California which are being swept by snow storms. This lodge and gas station near Placerville, Calif., are almost covered beneath 15 feet of snow.

Serious Labor Shortage Seen

Waco, Jan. 17. (AP)—Texas had a warning today of a serious farm labor shortage this spring unless quick accord is reached for employment of Mexican nationals.

A meeting in Waco yesterday denounced an existing agreement which expires Feb. 11 and urged the government to listen to views of farmers and ranchers in drawing up any new pact.

Resolutions passed and sent to members of Congress from Texas said:

1. The present migrant labor (bracero) should be extended although it is so complex and bound with red-tape it is practically unworkable.

2. It is recommended that a joint hearing be held by Congress and all affected government agencies before Feb. 1 to allow farmers and ranchers an opportunity to present their views that a new contract be consummated without delay.

3. The group is opposed to any legislation which would intrude on the constitutional right against search without warrant.

Legislation was recommended concerning penalties for harboring illegal aliens.

TRIESTE, because of its strategic location, has been fought over for centuries. Its fine harbor, protected by mountains that dominate the upper Adriatic Sea, has been the gateway for trade with the Danube basin and Eastern Europe. Austria claimed the port city for 500 years, but lost it to Italy in World War I, after 600,000 Italians died fighting in the snow-covered Julian Alps. In World War II, Hitler grabbed Trieste only to lose it to Tito, who tried for a time to bring the city into the then-expanding Soviet Slav empire. After the war, the Western Allies wanted to return it to Italy, but at Paris in 1946 they compromised on a "Free Territory of Trieste," under United Nations supervision and occupied jointly by East and West. Zone A has been occupied by Britain and America, and has enjoyed five times more American Marshall Plan aid per capita than Italy. Zone B has been under Yugoslav occupation. Recent reports from Belgrade say Trieste may soon be divided, despite Russian objections, between Italy and Yugoslavia along the border of the two occupation zones. The port of Trieste would become Italian, but would be open also to Yugoslavia and Austria. With Western Europe rearming, Trieste has enjoyed prosperity in its booming shipyards, oil refineries and with the income brought by 10,000 British and U. S. troops stationed in the northern zone. Trieste's largely Italian population, while working for reunion with Italy, would view with mixed emotions the end of their privileged status as a "free territory" subsidized by Allied funds.

Called by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, cattle raisers, vegetable growers and cotton farmers attended. All expressed concern over the threatened labor shortage. Some said it was already here, not "threatening."

Austin Anson, Harlingen, president of the Texas Citrus and Vegetable Growers Association, said, "we are feeling the labor shortage now. You experienced a labor shortage last year, but you haven't seen anything yet."

"If we don't get a workable contract, we ought to tell Washington that there will be no food," Jim Griffin, Mission farmer, said. "It's a matter of agriculture against labor unions. This is the time to stand up for our rights."

Griffin is president of the newly organized American Agricultural Council. Jay C. Stille, executive vice president of the Texas Cotton Ginners Association, told the meeting that "farm labor is at its lowest numbers since 1909."

Cotton farmers tell me they won't plant heavily to cotton unless they are assured of an adequate labor supply." Stille said he felt it was too late to "do any good this year," and advocated a permanent labor committee composed of groups represented at the meeting.

Anson spoke favorably of talks in Mexico City last week at which American and Mexican farm organizations made joint recommendations for an international pact on labor.

Joe C. Montague, attorney for the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, told the group "getting sufficient farm labor will help get rid of governmental controls."

Montague added: "The provisions of the present Mexico-U. S. labor agreement which make it possible for a ranch to be searched without a search warrant is unconstitutional according to tradition. But recent judgments of the Supreme Court leave me in doubt about this."

Chocolate Balls For That Nursery Party This Year

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

Associated Press Food Editor

Thinking of entertaining young tots during the holidays? Then remember a few hints that help when the nursery set goes gala.

1. Keep the party small. Many mothers have found that having as many guests as a child is old is a safe number to have around.

2. Plan activities carefully. Don't wait for last-minute inspirations—you may not have enough of them to keep bouncing youngsters happy and occupied. Small fry enjoy simple singing games such as "London Bridge," "Drop the Handkerchief," and "In and Out the Window." You'd think they would tire of them but they don't! Treasure Hunts are popular, and you can have wrapped

Christmas candy and peanuts for the hidden nuggets.

3. Plan to have a small present that each child will enjoy playing with at the party and then can take home. Inexpensive scrap books and new crayons are a good example of this kind of favor.

4. Keep party fare simple. Ask Evangelical and Reformed Church per is a good idea. For the main dish you might serve chicken timbales made from ground chicken, cream sauce, soft bread crumbs and a little minced parsley for seasoning, with buttered snap beans cut in 1½-inch pieces for easy eating, and a small bread and butter sandwich. A few crisp carrot sticks will add pretty color to the plates. For dessert serve ice cream in little paper cups with tiny sugar cookies.

5. Youngsters love place cards on the party table. One suggestion is to make Chocolate Candy Balls and wrap each in colored cellophane, then attack a name-card for each guest. Here's a recipe: Chocolate Candy Balls

Ingredients: 4 cups puffed rice, ½ cup chopped nuts, ¼ cup sugar, ¼ cup corn syrup, ½ cup water, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 squares (2 ounces) unsweetened chocolate, ½ teaspoon vanilla, 1 tablespoon butter.

Method: Heat puffed rice in shallow pan in moderate (350 degree) oven for 10 minutes. Put in large greased bowl. Add nuts, meats and mix well. Combine sugar, syrup, water, and salt; bring to a boil. Add chocolate and continue cooking until a few drops in cold water form a soft ball (234 F.). Add vanilla and butter, stir. Pour syrup over puffed rice and mix quickly. With greased hands shape into balls, 2½ inches in diameter. Let harden on wire rack. Makes 9 balls.

SKYSCRAPER CONTEST

New York. (AP)—So many new skyscrapers have been built in New York since the war that few New Yorkers know their own famous skyline. To familiarize the man in the street with new buildings, the realty firm of Cushman & Wakefield, one of the nation's largest, has opened a contest by placing pictures of 36 new commercial buildings in its office windows. Twenty-three cash prizes totaling $1,000 are offered for identification of the buildings together with the best essay of 100 words on "Why Manhattan is the ideal location for an office."

WHALES BITING

St. John's Nfld. (AP)—While the northern whaling season does not end until the middle of October, one firm which operates six vessels out of Hawkes Harbor, Labrador, reports a total catch of 270 whale up to the end of August. The same firm caught 237 in the same period a year ago.

SENATOR CONNALLY FORCING THE TIDELANDS ISSUE

Senator Tom Connally has introduced a resolution in the Senate to force a vote on the bill recognizing State ownership of tidelands. A House-passed measure has been reposing in the pigeon hole of Senate Committee on Insular and Interior Affairs since last Summer, and there were no indications that a move would be made soon to report out the bill.

Both branches of Congress have approved in previous years legislation which would have the effect of setting aside Supreme Court decisions vesting control of tidelands in the Federal Government. Each time the measure would be vetoed by the President and up to the present time there have not been sufficient votes in the Senate to override Presidential disapproval.

It is doubtful if the required two-thirds majority vote in the Senate could be obtained now. However, there is a chance that a veto could be set aside and it is worth taking. In any event it would be worth something to have Congress on record again as favoring State sovereignty in a matter which so vitally affects the economy of several coastal States.

If nothing more would be accomplished by action on the tidelands measure it would make the issue a live one in this year's Presidential campaign. It might even turn enough support to decide the outcome of the race, if it should turn out as was the case four years ago when Republicans pledged return of the tidelands to the States while the Democratic platform upheld the Roosevelt-Truman position.

CHARACTER AND ABILITY NEEDED IN PUBLIC SERVICE

President Truman no sooner gets one scandal off his hands than another breaks out. Just as it appeared that he might be doing something about corruption in the scandal-ridden Bureau of Internal Revenue startling disclosures are made about irregularities in grain storage operations of the Commodity Credit Corporation. And then, of course, the RFC scandals ante-dated both.

Under the circumstances no one could blame Mrs. Truman for advising her husband to chuck the whole thing at the end of his present term and let some other man have the worry of being President.

But there is no secret as to how such things come to pass. The basic cause is the lavish use of taxpayers' money for all sorts of ventures, social, political and business, and placing the administration in the hands of persons chosen solely on the basis of their service to the political party in power. Nothing could be more natural for an official to serve his party bosses who gave him his job when it is known that he was chosen as a reward for services to the party.

If the Government is determined to go into the banking business it should choose administrators of character and experience in that particular field. But it does no such thing. Top jobs are handed out as spoils to the faithful. Appointment by the late President Roosevelt of Henry A. Wallace as head of FRC was a classic example of how such things are handled. And by way of introducing some extenuating evidence it should be stated that the way such matters have been handled by Presidents Roosevelt and Truman was not invented by them. Republican presidents did the same thing. Only in other years opportunities for graft were peanuts compared to present-day green pastures.

Another major explanation is that the present chief executive is primarily a party man, and his moral sensibilities are dulled by that fact. Recent developments plainly indicate that responsibility in the public service has outgrown the capability of administrators.

Man devotes half of his life to ruining his health, seeking wealth; and the other half spending his wealth to regain his health.

Face powder has brought an end to more single men than gun powder.

A man who serves two masters doesn't necessarily have two employers.

We like a man who comes right out and says what he thinks, when he agrees with us.

Vaccine for Polio May Be Ready Soon

Dallas, Jan. 17. (AP)—A polio-preventing vaccine could be nearer than you think.

Dr. Chauncey D. Leake, vice president of the University of Texas medical branch at Galveston, said yesterday extensive research already has been done.

Dr. Leake said research has ruled out the cockroach as a polio carrier and so far has made the house fly a suspected carrier only.

Three viruses of polio have been isolated, he said, and ways have been found recently by which virus strains can be grown in pure form so that they can be mixed into possible vaccines.

More and more adults are falling victim to the crippling disease, Dr. Leake said.

"Why, we do not know," he added.

The medical chief said polio was almost an occupational hazard in Galveston's medical profession.

The town has had 21 cases of polio since Dec. 1 and 19 were physicians or members of their families.

Testimony Scheduled In Shooting Case

Palestine, Jan. 17. (AP)—Testimony was to begin today in the trial of Alton Paris, 59-year-old Negro charged in the fatal shooting of Gus Engeling.

The jury was completed yesterday.

Engeling, a state game biologist, was shot to death Dec. 13 in Catfish Creek swamp. His body was found days later hidden under a log.

Members of a pipeline crew working near the site said Engeling had gone into a thicket to investigate shots heard in the game refuge.

DIES OF BURNS

Hillsboro, Jan. 17. (AP)—Fire that destroyed her home yesterday killed Mrs. Hallie Myrick Dale, 82, of Irene, 20 miles east of Hillsboro.

FULL HOUSE IN WALL STREET

New York. (AP)—Wall Street skyscrapers are enjoying a new era of prosperity after many years before the war of bankrupting vacancies.

The 70-story Bank of Manhattan Building at 40 Wall St., one of the tallest downtown structures, is fully occupied for the first time in 20 years with an annual rent roll reported at $3,600,000.

John H. G. Pell, president of the building corporation, reports the $15,000 square feet of office space is rented at an average of $4.42 per square foot, with some tower leases bringing as much as $6. This equals the rate of some of the newest skyscrapers in the Mid-town.

Dr. Logan's Wife By Diana Gaines

THE STORY: Jennet Logan, young wife of the old and failing Dr. Gus Logan, thought that her life, which she believed to be secure and well-regulated, is almost less. This realization comes after she meets Peter Suriano, charming young biophysicist who is doing research in atomic medicine. Once in his laboratory, Peter kisses Jennet, but Jennet tells herself she is a sensible person and she will remain faithful to her husband. Maxwell Cota, layman head of the hospital, suspects Peter, who is of Russian extraction, of being a Communist because Peter objected to the loyalty oath. Dr. Logan and Dr. Polletier, his friend, are trying to save Peter from being discharged. While Dr. Logan is attending a meeting, Jennet meets Peter on the street and he asks her to go with him to a forum on civic unity, which will discuss the housing situation. Cota, it seems, is a large holder of real estate, especially in the slums.

XIV
THE auditorium was large and cool and dim. Jennet followed Peter down the aisle, leaning backward to resist the incline which sucked at her feet. About 50 people were scattered like salt through the front rows of the vaulted hall. Jennet's quick survey of the heads told her that more than half were students, the rest, dowdy respectable oldsters of the lecture-bound variety.

Peter showed her to the front row, said in a lowered voice, "You don't mind sitting way up front, do you? We can sit here on the side."

Peter mounted the steps to the platform. He leaned his elbows on the pedestal, his shoulders hunched like a cowhand at a pasture fence, and his face too—the stone-clean bones, the ruddy coloring, the hair shocked as by a wind—seemed to belong to the outdoors. The acoustics gave his deep voice an echoing ring which had theatrical value. He explained about the Banning Club for the benefit of newcomers, made a few references to past meetings which brought chuckles from the students.

"Homes," he said, "that's what we're going to hear about tonight. Homes. Homes in Los Angeles, our city of sunshine and palm trees and flowers—and rats. The tourist journeys from every corner of the United States to see our beautiful city. He gapes at our palm-lined boulevards, our manicured gardens, our supermarkets, our sun-tanned children. But he doesn't see our slums. He doesn't know that just a few blocks from the downtown shopping district are rickety tenements, tar-paper shacks and chicken-coop shanties."

JENNET sighed. It was not only going to be a bore, but unpleasant too. Of course there were slums wherever there were large cities. Did this self-righteous Quixote expect everyone there to take a broom and personally sweep them out? She began to wonder if Peter weren't a bit of a prig.

"... some men claim there are no slums—only dirty housewives. We have with us tonight a man who disagrees. It is my privilege to introduce Mr. Fred Chaney, whose fine work in the field of public housing is nationally known. Mr. Chaney."

The sound of applause was lost to the shadowy arch of the ceiling, but his beat was steady and determined. As Peter jogged down the steps of the stage, another man climbed the far ones. Her eyes were on Peter—she could hear the coins jingle in his pocket as he bounced down with the loose movement of the tap-dancer. Small as the pond was, he was the big fish here, and natural love of celebrity made her proud that he was coming to sit beside her. The seat creaked as he settled himself. In the dimness, she whispered, "On you a soap-box is becoming."

The man did not make himself at home on the rostrum as Peter had. He was short—the podium came high on his chest—and his voice had a hoarseness.

Jennet lowered her head and closed her eyes. "... and next door to this ramshackle three-story building is a cowtail factory. Do you know what a cowtail factory is? It is a factory where the fresh tails of horses and cows are plucked for hairs and the hairs used for upholstery of furniture."

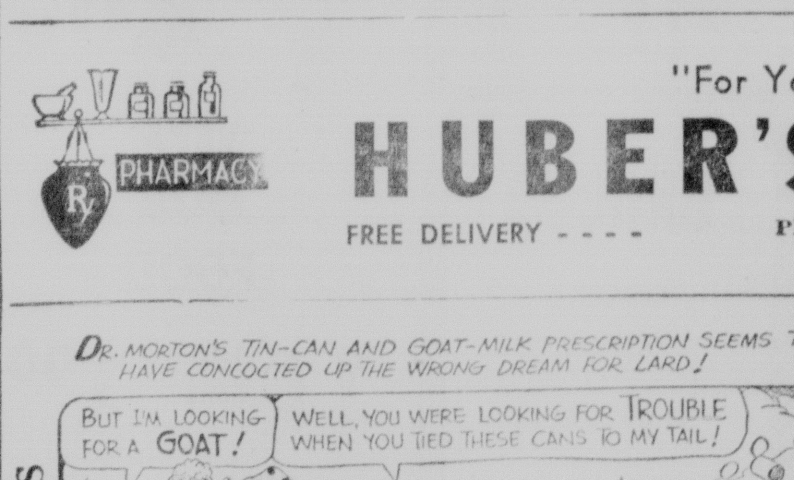

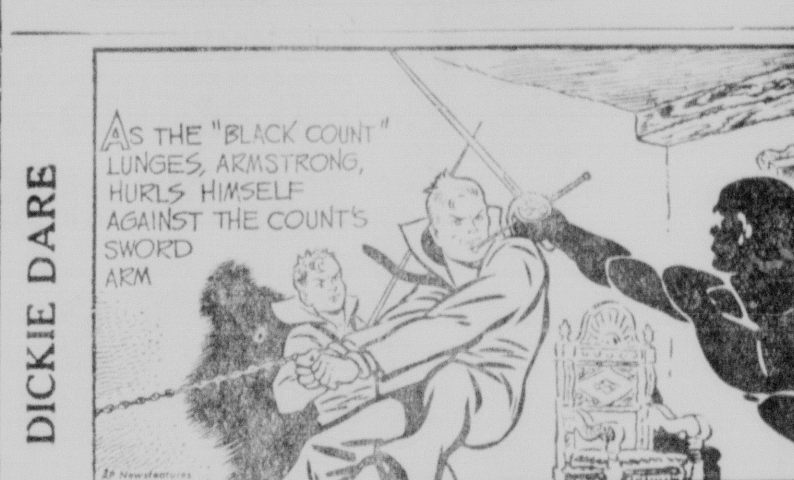

She was suddenly acutely embarrassed by the rumbling of her stomach. "... a third of a million people in Los Angeles today are penned into the same tiny dismal areas that were allotted to them before the war when their numbers were small."

The speaker talked on and she crossed her arms over her stomach, hugging the noise of it. "Friends, I see my time is almost up..." Jennet perked up. It would end, then. She squinted hard at her watch which said only a quarter to nine. Gus was not even home yet. Gus—in conference with the hospital heads, not three minutes away.

(To Be Continued)

MORE STEAK IN THE FUTURE?—The average American ate less meat during 1951 than in any year since 1947, because of high prices and scarcity of the commodity. However, the U. S. Department of Agriculture says he may do better in 1952 with the average rising to 144 pounds. Newschart above shows average meat consumption per person since 1947.
